The 1989

WINTERSTAR VISIONQUEST SYMPOSIUM

MARCH 3-5

As the days lengthen toward spring, A.C.E. will host our sixth annual Winterstar Symposium. We are pleased to return to Atwood Resort, 45 minutes south of Canton, Ohio. We have assembled a wide range of exciting speakers and artists.

The theme for this year's Winterstar is
The Self in Transformation.

We hope you can join us.

Whether pursued through Hermetics, Tantra, Alchemy, high-tech brain training or psychotherapy, the goal of the Great Work is the transformation of the raw material of our lives into spiritual gold. At Winterstar '89, we will focus on the means of taking control of our own transformation, the paths through the maze of our selves to the center. Through workshops and ceremonies, demonstration and discussion, we will seek deeper understanding of the process of our lives. Join us as we break the silence of winter for the coming of spring.

Returning to Winterstar are:

Robert Anton Wilson is an author, editor, lecturer and guerilla ontologist with an avid interest in human behavior. His mammoth Illuminatus! trilogy, co-authored with Robert Shea, won the Prometheus Hall of Fame award. He has recorded a punk-rock record, The Chocolate Bisquit Conspiracy, and his play Wilhelm Reich in Hell, has been performed at the Edmund Burke Theatre in Dublin. This year Dr. Wilson will present an experiential workshop based on exercises from his popular book Prometheus Rising.

Isaac Bonewits is one of America's leading authorities on Magick, Witchcraft, Paganism and the occult, as well as an active Neopagan clergyman and founder of the Druidic religious organization Ar nDraiocht Fein. His classic text Real Magic is back in print from Weiser. Isaac will speak on the ritual work of Theurgy.

Anne Boger of the Cleveland Museum of Art will present another wonderful slide-lecture on the Smith as Transformer.

We are pleased to welcome our new guests:

Halim El-Dabh is a renowned ethnomusicologist teaching at Kent State University. He will present a 2½ hour workshop on African drumming and movement in the context of healing and transformation.

Andras Corban and Diedre Pulgram are the founders and facilitators of Athanor Fellowship and key organizers of Boston's EarthSpirit Community, one of the nation's largest Pagan fellowships. They will share their music and speak on shamanic trends in the Wiccan movement.

Donald Michael Kraig is the author of the bestselling Modern Magic and editor of the Llewellyn Newtimes. He will speak on the mysteries of the Kabala and on Tantra for westerners.

On Saturday evening, the Chameleon Club will present a multi-media transformative working based on the seven alchemical metals (Lead, Iron, Tin, Mercury, Copper, Silver and Gold). Winterstar participants will attend workshops and design a visual image and/or group behavior to convey the concepts of each metal in the working. If you feel an affinity to one of the metals, feel free to bring ideas, props or costumes.

In addition, we will host workshops by A.C.E.'s own Joseph Rothenberg, who will demonstrate a number of electronic meditation aids, and Ian Corrigan, who will speak on the deeper spiritual implications of Neopaganism and Wicca; a ceremony for Mahashivaratri, the annual Hindu festival of Shiva; and an informal musical concert. We have a few workshop slots available. If you wish to present a workshop, please submit a description with your registration.
